COMMITMENTS ON CONTINENT REVIEW OF ARMS PROBLEM PLEA TO NATIONS

NO BRITISH

London, To-day. The Dominions Secretary, Mr. J. H. Thomas, in a speech at Newport yesterday, said that neither directly nor indirectly was there any secret agreement which involved Britain in any commitment or the continent of Europe. They were faced with many difficulties, and elements were abroad Europe which created the war spirit, namely suspicion, ill-will, and mistrust, but he saw no wal-talk now prevalent. Dealing with the question of traffic in arms, he appreciated the anxiety felt on the subject Britain, however, was the only country which had a licencing system for the export of armsments by means of which an effective Government control could be exercised, and to his knowledge millions of pounds worth of orders in the last three years had, in consequence of this system, been refused. They had also refused and would continue to refuse, Government credit of any kind for the manufacture of armaments. He wished other nations would follow the exam-

rant or justification for the war

He would welcome an enquiry into the situation regarding the private manufacture and national control of armaments, and believed that it would show results of which they would have no reason to feel ashamed. - British Wireless Service.

The Decorative Window-Sill PRACTICAL IDEAS IN EXTENSIONS

Happy the house to which . generous in the matter of window sills, for therein lies great opportunity for the effective and the decorative. For the house that has not been thus endowed there is the question of the extension of the existing sills. These may be developed with the aid of brackets. The bracket of hand-forged iron is to-day being developed along excellent lines, its production being encouraged by the vogue for console tables and shelf-fitments in the place of separate pieces of furniture. A meagre sill can assume adequate proportions with the addition of a wooden extension, bracket-supported, the whole clothing itself in carefully selected tiles. With luck you may find to fit it a set of old Dutch tiles in aubergine of the type that forms a complete picture, say of Amsterdam shipping or of flower-group. Cinema Notes

"GRAND CANARY"-KINO'S THEATRE 181

Warner Baxter, Madge Evans and Zita Johann are starred in the teading characters of Dr. A. J. Cronin's outstanding novel, "Grand Canary", now at the King's Thea-

The story opens with Baxter as an eminent young doctor and scientist boarding a ship for the Canary Islands. His career is apparently wrecked, and he believes he is sailing to oblivion. On the same ship is Madge Evans, sailing from an unhappy marriage. Al though they are irredistibly drawn to one another, their sense of honour prevents them from admitting their love.

When they reach Grand Canary. the largest island in the group, Baxter's scientific skill is summoned to stem a plague of yellow fever. His love for Madge has restored his self-respect, and his desire to laid mankind. The climax is reached when Madge contracts the dread disease, and he saves her life. His heroic work has restored his scientific standing, and they sail back to London to build a new life together. It is a colourful story, amid tropical settings of rare beauty.

Others in the cast are Barry Horton, Juliette Compton, Gilbert John Rogers, Gerald Rogers, Desmond Roberts, and Carrie Daumery.

ENGLISHMAN COOL IN CRISIS

(By A. WALLIS MYERS)

TEAN BOROTRA'S SEVEN-YEAR REIGN AS HOLDER OF THE COVERED COURTS-TITLE WAS BROKEN AT QUEEN'S CLUB ON SATURDAY BY H. W. AUSTIN, WHO DE-FEATED HIM IN THE FINAL BY THREE SETS TO TWO (6-2, 4-6, 6-0, 6-8, 6-2).

Thus, like the championship at Wimbledon, it has returned to this country after a long exile in the wilderness. It is a fitting climax to the British lawn tennis year.

Austin's victory was richly deserved and gallantly achieved. He played superbly in the third and fifth sets-so well, indeed, in one phase as to take six games in sequence and then, when the counterattack came, to move forward unscathed through a situation that demanded both coolness and judgment.

Yet, viewed as a whole, it was not a great final, and the overflowing galleries, although they had many sparkling shots to applaud, and until nearly the end were intrigued about the result, saw breaks of games in which errors of timing were con-

LAW AND POLITICS

Mr. Justice Acton, who has just resigned, is the only example of a High Court judge promoted from the County Court Bench.

It is understood that the reason against these promotions is that it might lead, as it has done in fluence being exercised on judges, if they could look forward to such promotions as a matter of us practice.

In France it has led to the development of a political section of the bar. It is made up of barristers who are also prominent in politics. Their wishes tend to be respected by the judges for fear of the consequences of the contact between the barristers and the Minister of Justice.

New York, To-day. According to advice received through the United Press, a leading Wall Street authority predicts there will be a steady advance in the market for the balance of 1934 and the early part of 1935. A decline in shigh grade Bond prices is also forecasted.

Favourable factors yesterday were that Pittsburgh steel scrap advanced 25 cents a ton and that other districts expect higher prices, and that the directors of the United States Chamber of Commerce met yesterday to discuss methods for aiding in the economic recovery of the country and assisting President Roosevelt against the Left Wing party in Congress.

An unfavourable factor was that the weekly bank clearings U.S.$3,860,276,000 as _totalled against U.S.$4,327,134,000 last year. S. E. Levy And Company's Report In their market report, Messrs. S. E. Levy and Company, correspondents for Messrs. White. Weld and Company. New York state:

4-North, a stolid player of the non-psychic variety, assumes that his partner must hold at least four spades.

5-Mr. Barnes should have stuck by his guns since, even with only three trumps, considering the general strength of his hand and the vigour of his partner's bidding, he must have an excellent play for the contract. He attempts the impossible in trying to correct a previous error.

6-North, in his innocence, is delighted with the turn the bidding has taken. Not unnaturally interpreting his partner's five-diamond bid as a Slam try, he cue-bids in hearts.

Queen was won by Dummy's Acc and three rounds of spade splayed. Discovering much to his disgust that trumps did not break, Mr. Barnes now laid down the King of: dismonds and followed with three more rounds of diamonds, to which: West was forced to follow while Dummy discarded the two losing

A low club was now led from the closed hand and West, having no more hearts or diamonds to lead, saw no point in splitting his honours. As a matter of fact it made no difference. The nine of clubs was finessed in Dummy and when this held the trick Mr. Barnes nonchalantly took out the last spade and threw West into the lead with the club Knave, forcing him to blend back into Dummy's club tenace.

Mr. Barnes, without lifting his? eyes, busied himself with the score while the other tree players merely sat and said nothing.

PARTY FUSION IN SQUTH AFRICA

Natal's Protest To General Smuts

STRONG RESENTMENT

The terms on which General Hertzog and General Smuts have agreed to the fusion of the Nationalist and South African Parties have aroused strong resentment in Natal, where a new Party has been formed with Mr. J. S. Marwick, M.P., as leader.

The reason for withdrawing from General Smuts the support and confidence which he had s long received in Natal have been set out in a letter addressed to General Smuts by Mr. Marwick and published in the "Natal Mercury."

In this letter Mr. Marwick reproaches General Smuts with his acquiescence in the Hertzog doctrine of Sovereign Independence, which for fourteen year he (General Smuts) had continuously opposed.

It is pointed out that on |February 15, 1934, General Hertog defined the proposed status egislation as meaning.

"That the British Crown, in so far as the Union is concerned. is divisible, that we possess the right of neutrality, and that we have the right of separation."
